

By DAN TORIBIO

Police arrested a man who went into hiding after he stabbed and killed his drinking pal in Sitio Baluno, Upper Bunguiao last March 6, this year.

The suspect was identified as Emilio Araneta y Atilano who killed Marcelino Pajarito, 52.

The suspect was arrested last Monday and was detained at the Sangali Police Station.

Recall that Araneta and Pajarito were attending a birthday party and were having a drinking spree when they figured in a heated argument.

The suspect stabbed Pajarito while the latter was walking on his way home.

Police have prepared murder charges against the suspect in court. – Dan Toribio